EGS's Current Events

By: EGS Sugarmama V

As new members come in, EGS's member count rises! With more members coming in EGS gets to finally open its doors to EGS's Departments, though not all of them are reopening but a good amount are.

The Department Teams that are reopening as per EGS Owners are as follows The Media Team, The Recruitment Team, The News Team, and The Events Team. Each team specializes in different hobbies.

The Media team will focus on making new pictures to revamp our discord and website as well as making videos and clips for our YouTube channel and TikTok, on top of streaming our events and Gamenights on twitch.

The Recruitment team is going to focus on bringing in fresh new faces whom wish to join the EGS family, while training members and staff on the proper techniques on how to recruit a new member successfully. As well as ensuring all members feel welcome, important, and part of the team.

To where the NewsTeam brings all members and followers up to date on EGS current events, new gaming news and membership spotlights, as well as big events and giveaways that EGS is offering. With a new article every two weeks to keep you all coming back for more!

Last but not least we have the Events team! They will be working on creating events for all our members and guests to enjoy together. From Gamenights with leaders, to holiday events on top of creating giveaways to help boost moral and keep everyone interested in being around EGS or joining the family on the daily.

So you can see EGS has been staying busy and will continue to do so! EGS Departments are finally slowly opening, which department are you going to choose? Don't forget if you haven't yet, join EGS today!

2 Xbox Gaming Hits Coming to PS5

By: EGS Sugarmama V

There are not only one Xbox game that was hit but 2, and they are finally coming to PS5!

Gears of War: E-Day which is a prequel to the original Gears Of War that dates back 14 years prior to the first game. Is said to be released in 2026 on Xbox, PC and now PS5.

Another hit Xbox game is State of Decay. State of Decay 3 which is an upcoming open world survival game set in a zombie apocalypse. The game will be available on Xbox, PC and PS5! First launching on Xbox game pass this coming year.

Since the beginning of 2024 Microsoft began getting away from just console exclusivity with the goal to adapt to a more traditional third-party publishing model. Since then they have ported more than a dozen titles to Xbox rivalry consoles, for example Tony hawk pro skater 3 + 4 that became available to PlayStation players July 11th of this year.

I personally like a good story mode with some horror so I'm definitely going to be giving State of Decay 3 a try when it comes out on Xbox game pass.

The titles that have already been shared to other consoles on top of these two are just the beginning. Microsoft isn't done sharing games just yet. What is the next game you think Microsoft will chose?
